The Colors of Salve

The campus of Salve Regina University is one of the most beautiful in the country. From the deep blue waters of the Atlantic to the golden warmth of sunsets over the Newport Bridge, students at S.R.U. are treated to spectacular scenery on a daily basis.

Soon after the start of classes, the tree-lined streets on campus are ablaze with the fiery colors of autumn. These are followed quickly by the more subdued tones of winter in Newport, as students huddle indoors to avoid the ice and snow.

Spring witnesses an explosion of life, growth, and activity on campus. Students hurry to and from classes, echoed by the scampering of the squirrels among the trees.

And then, all too quickly, it's time to leave.

As the procession of graduates exits Commencement, the time has come for new dreams, new challenges, and new lives. New colors.

Creatures of the two-legged and four-legged variety take time to enjoy the outdoors on Salve's seaside campus.

COMMUNITY

Academics! Making The Grade

The Admissions Committee evaluates students on academic ability, intellectual curiosity, strength of character, motivation and promise of personal growth and development. The new University library, centrally located on campus, was completed in the spring of 1991. Here, students gain information and knowledge through communication and information technology.

Modern science laboratories, state-of-the-art IBM technology labs, small classrooms, graphics, photography, and music studios provide quality settings for quality programs.

WHERE ELSE BUT SALVE

... can you go to a university, live in a mansion right on the ocean, and have historic Newport right in your back yard?

The campus is a peaceful, relaxed place with its tree-lined walkways and architecturally significant buildings, yet it bristles with the spontaneity, the vigor, and the excitement of the experience of learning.

Varsity and Club sports for men and women have earned Salve Regina recognition by winning consecutive conference titles. Athletic activities include: hockey, tennis, golf, sailing, basketball, baseball, soccer, track, football, field hockey and equestrian events.

Red-Hot Spirit

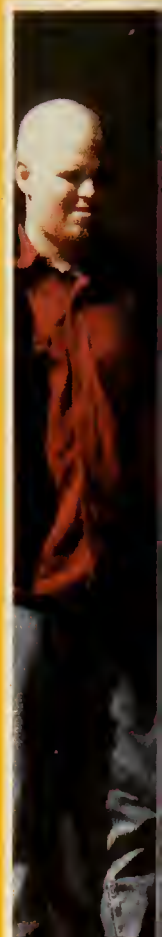

The Campus is a peaceful, relaxed place with its tree-lined walkways and architecturally significant buildings; yet it bristles with the spontaneity, the vigor, and the excitement of youth.

Beating the Blues

WHERE ELSE BUT SALVE? Located in the historic seaport of Newport, Rhode Island, Salve Regina University is a coeducational university of Arts and Sciences with an enrollment of over 2000 students. The distinct advantage of Salve Regina's small comprehensive environment is its rich blending of academic, social and athletic activities aimed at providing students with an atmosphere conducive to individual development. Student organizations and activities encourage active involvement in student government, honor societies, professional internships, community activities and varsity and intramural sports. In addition, the University sponsors an annual lecture series, a monthly music series, trips to large metropolitan areas and foreign countries, and special on-campus weekend activities.
